

On September 6-7th 2019 Margarita Vladimirova, Associate Professor of Zhejiang Gongshang Law school, was invited to participate in the 1st Hackathon on Hangzhou in the Cloud Town as a legal consultant and a public speaking specialist.

With the support of Hangzhou Future Science and Technology City Government, GSH Hackathon invited innovators from all over the world (Australia, USA, India, Russia, Britain, Germany, Ukraine, China, France, Singapore and others) to participate. Specialists from various areas of experiences and practices gathered together: Lawyers, Marketing and IT specialists, Videographers, Businessmen, Finance managers, in order to share knowledge and experience.

With invited leaders from business areas of innovation in Hangzhou: Yanqing Wang (Hyperledger, IBM greater China digital business group, developer, Shune River Capital); Michael Friedman (Chairman of the International Entrepreneur Association of Hangzhou); Benjamin Speyer (President of the International Entrepreneur Association of Hangzhou and Investment Ambassador for Nanjing City, Vice Chairman of the ‘Zhejiang Foreign Economic Development Association’);

Amanda Ma (Head of InnoSpace Accelerator) and others, this event was dedicated to solving problems in the developing Urban space of Hangzhou.

Professor Margarita Vladimirova provided legal support and consultation on areas related to the Urban, Contract and IP law, and delivered public speaking training, based on Legal Negotiation course.

Professor discussed some of the projects' development with Benjamin Speyer and Amanda Ma: future of foreign innovations in Hangzhou and the legal support of those projects in the upcoming years of the city's expansion in the AI application market.